Strategic and hands-on venture development support from seasoned experts in asset strategy, regulatory pathways, IP, team building, and fundraising. Not just advice, but active collaboration to move your venture forward.

Access to tools and databases that empower you to research, validate, and execute your strategy from day one.

Dedicated funding to support strategic development and prepare for your Seed or Series A fundraising, because real progress requires real resources.

Embedded access to Brabant’s biotech ecosystem, including investors, advisors, and industry partners. Not just introductions, but integration into the networks that matter.

In comparison to the pressure cooker programmes, we work with you continuously until your venture reaches the qualitative level needed to successfully raise funding.
